FROM THE NGFNL PRESIDENT

Hello everyone and welcome to round seven of our 2023 season.

It has been a busy week for the President with 3 meetings Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, a visit to Heyfield FNC Thursday night and a media commitment Friday to launch the leagues 2023 Pride Cup.

Gee I might have to ask the League boss for a 10% pay rise but then again 10% of nothing is nothing which is about what every other league volunteer gets so hopefully the fruits of our collective efforts will be rewarded somewhere down the road.

There is a lot happening in the league at the moment. A Netball tournament Sunday for our under 15 and 17 league representatives. These ladies have represented our league with such commitment and collective spirit. I wish the players coaches and teams managers all the very best this Sunday. nd

Shortly it will be the Under 18 Footballers turn as Coach Anderson is starting to sift through the club nominations for consideration and he is coordinating the scheduling training nights.

In conjunction with AGL Loy Yang the League will be holding a compulsory Mental Health night with the assistance of Mindful Aus. I am sure Rosedale and Yallourn clubs can attest to the value and benefit of engaging this organization. Last Friday I met with Director Matt Rundell and what we are scoping out is a significant support package to our clubs abled funded by a $60,000 sponsorship package from our leagues major sponsor AGL Loy Yang. WOW what a significant contribution and offer by AGL and we should grab this opportunity with both hands and maximise every opportunity. I am hopeful this will give clubs the experience confidence and tools to help any member within their club and circle of influence.

The Senior Leagues in Gippsland are meeting Wednesday 17th to thrash out/discuss some collective Football issues. I am hoping in future communications I can share some of this meeting's content, direction and possible solutions. A couple of issues I will be tabling will be junior development/pathways and growth of our junior clubs plus the pending Match Review Officer for the NGFNL in 2024.

Finally Pride Cup prep and call to action sessions are in full swing for round 8 Sale City vs Heyfield. Thursday night I was warmly welcomed to Heyfield FNC to share some league experiences and outcomes and on Friday we held our Media launch to hopefully get some coverage and traction of our major Sponsor and leagues commitment to the AGL Pride Cup. Enough said it was a busy week.

In round 6 the Tigers hosted the Roo's with boom recruit for the day Dane Swan pulling on a Tiger jumper for the day. Age and the rigours of AFL football are showing but noine the less it was great to have Dane in our midst. The Tigers were up and about but missed some simple opportunities which could have seen them in front at half time. The Roo's gathered in the second half to run out solid winners and I again think this group of young men will cause further upsets as the season unfolds.

I tipped a close game between Cowwarr and Rosedale but a draw was the outcome when the final siren sounded. I suspect there was opportunity in both camps, but both will have drawn some confidence from what must have been an exciting match for all and sundry. As expected, the Dees did enough to fend off a determined Bulldog outfits banking another 4 points in their 2023 journey however the Bulldogs were far from embarrassed. The Classy Bombers got out of the gate quickly to set the tone in their game against the Pies, but I have to say the Pies battled out the day and if this game was measured on the second half only then the Pies can hold their heads up high.

In potentially the match of round in 6 a couple of the leagues heavy weights were set to do battle at the home of the Jets. Let me firstly say the NAIDOC celebrations by YYNFNC were again a highlight and from a League perspective I thank the Cougars for their respectful participation. However, from a Football point of view the Cougars again got the chocolates with a consistent and sold display of Country football. I suspect the bye will not come fast enough for the Jets this weekend, allowing them time to clear their minds and reset for a mid-season rally and preparing themselves for the back end of season 2023. I would not write the Jets off yet, but they need to some spark and some better form which unfortunately Bunnings does not sell either of those products.

In this week's games the Roo's host the Saints at the Sale Football Ground. Both clubs have shown a bit of form in recent weeks and this should be a good game. The Sale venue will allow both clubs to use that youthful run and carry. I think this game will also be played for the Komen/Holland cup which were great characters of each club who unfortunately are down on us from above. An upset would not surprise me but I think the Roo's will get over the line by a couple of goals.

The Blues host the Doggies and again this should be a good game. Neither side has set the world in fire, but I think the Doggies have been more consistent and for this reason I am picking the boys from the kennel by a couple. That said, the Blues will be out to set the tone and will not like a defeat on home soil and it will cost me a couple of refreshments and a tongue lashing with brother-in-law Scoot should the Blues get over the line in this clash!!

A local derby over the hill will see the Dees host the Cats and yet again this should be a ripping game. Neither side has done much wrong and both clubs play with a bucket load of passion. The Dees have perhaps surprised a few from outside the club with their results thus far in 2023 but internally they have significant belief. At the Cattery they have had a solid few years and they will know this match is just another stepping stone in what makes a successful season and accordingly they will know there is only one way to leave the Dees den and that is, with 4 points in the bank. I just think the Cats a broader spread of talent across the ground, but they will need to take their opportunities or the Dees will make them pay in more way than one.

In our final match for round 7 the Cougars host the Bombers. Talk about not having done much wrong both teams are undefeated but that will change by 5 pm tonight. The Cougars at home are a daunting prospect with fire power up forward and plenty of talent everywhere else. I suspect the Bombers still have a sour taste in their mouth from a poor showing in the 2022 GF and perhaps this is fuelling some of their desire in 2023. Equally the Bombers have a talented mix at both ends but I think it is their midfield options which are better than the Cougars. Boy this is tough one to call but I think good form has always been a good benchmark and the Cougars have that at the moment and will take confidence from a solid win over the Jets last week fresh in their minds.

The Bombers know they need to send a message to all and sundry and claim a big scalp but after half time last week they were lacking a little bit of killer instinct and they will need to remedy this to enjoy victory today. Here I go.....the Cougars by 13 points!

Good luck to everyone today and remember to play hard but play fair.

Speak soon. David "dirty" Kyle President

NEW WOMEN AND GIRLS FOOTY GRANT LAUNCHES

The Australian Football League has launched a new grants program to benefit women and girls community football across the country.

The '2023 Women & Girls Community Grants Program' is open to community clubs, leagues, and associations, who are invited to apply for grants that fund projects and initiatives of up to $5,000 (leagues and associations) and $2,500 (clubs).

Consideration will be given to projects that fall within three focus areas:

Creating safe and inclusive environments for women and girls

Increasing participation for women and girls (on and off the field)

Increasing participation for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander women and girls, and women and girls from culturally diverse communities

Applications are now open and will close on Friday, June 30, with grant recipients to be announced in late July.

The AFL has established a panel to oversee and assess grant applications. The panel comprises Tanya Hosch (AFL Executive General Manager, Inclusion and Social Policy), Susan Alberti AC (Chair, Susan Alberti Medical Research Foundation), Nicole Livingstone OAM(AFL General Manager, Women's Football) and Debbie Lee (AFL National Women and Girls Action Plan Lead).

In 2022, the AFL approved more than $5 million in new investment to fund phase one of the Women and Girls Action Plan for the next three years, designed to drive participation and representation for women and girls across all aspects of community football from playing to coaching, umpiring and administering.

The action plan was developed to help achieve the aspirations in participation outlined in the Women's Football Vision, which was released late in 2021 and has a stated objective that the game will strive for equal participation and representation by the end of this decade.

SALE UMPIRE ASSOCIATION

Last week was Community Umpiring Week, and we would like to take the time to thank clubs for their support, not only last week, but throughout the season.

We've recently had some interest from clubs around having some of their players and/or family members who are interested in umpiring. We want more of this!

We have several under 18s players who boundary umpire with us after playing, and some of them field umpire juniors on the Sunday. We also have parents and relatives of players who umpire - they are going along to the games anyway, so they join in and earn some money!

If you or your club are interested in getting some of your people involved, drop us a line at saleumpires@outlook.com for some more information.
